

Dear Faculty, Staff or Community member

My name is Ron Jones and I am the co-creator of the social justice comedy "The Black-Jew Dialogues". We are currently working with _____ of the _____ office to bring our program to campus/area.

We are sending you this letter because we believe our program would make a good compliment to you existing classroom content or community discussion around the issues of race, gender, difference, and bias. We have developed this and other tools as part of our social justice theater company "Dialogues on Diversity" We urge you to go to our website:

<https://www.dialoguesondiversity.com/>

to learn more about what we are trying to accomplish with our show and programs.

The Black-Jew Dialogues objective is to not only entertain our audience, but also to engage them in what we believe is a necessary and vital dialogue about race and culture in America. This conversation is more important now than at almost any point in recent memory. More importantly, it is a conversation that needs to be handled carefully and with as many segments of the community as possible.

With that in mind, we try to work not only with the programming agencies on campus, but with faculty to support your work in the classroom however we can. To that end we have created the "The BJD Pre/Post Show Questionnaire" which you can download from our web site

<http://www.theblackjewdialogues.com/curriculum.php>

Our hope is that you will be willing to have you class join us for our performance and take part in our post show discussion. Additionally, we can even join you in your classroom for discussion if the timing of our arrival and performance times can work together. We would love to speak to you about this and other ideas you may have for how we can use our resources to help you reach your academic objectives. We have worked with many schools and faculty to coordinate classroom visits and workshops. You can also visit our online lesson pages at DODU

You can also visit our Dialogues on Diversity University (DODU) page to see our many of our performance programs broken down into educational lesson blocks
